

People and the Ocean: Investigating Newfoundlander's Relationship with the Ocean

Newfoundlander's have a strong and deep connection with the ocean. The ocean continues to shape and define our culture, our economy, and our identity. This presentation will discuss ongoing research into Newfoundlander's connection to the ocean, their concerns and hopes. This will include topics such as plastic pollution an offshore oil development.

Speaker: Monica Engel, PhD Candidate—Memorial University

12:30 - 1:20pm Wednesday, Oct 30th
Room 2014, Forest Centre, Grenfell Campus
Free of Charge Open to the Public

coastal matters